When Quality Matters, Eden Stone is the Choice

At Eden Stone, we pride ourselves on providing our customers with the best stone products available on the market.

What makes us different? It begins with the quality of our material. Our quarries produce Type III Dolomitic Limestone and Quartzitic Sandstone which are unique products in strength and durability. Our quarrying techniques, handed down through four generations, allow us to remove and process our material with less waste, yielding the highest quality Limestone and Sandstone products you will find in the Midwest. But we don't stop there! Our highly trained staff works with each piece of stone before it touches a pallet, making sure it is trimmed, sized and packaged properly so it is ready for installation as soon as you get it. This attention to detail ensures that your stone will be prepared for installation upon delivery, saving you and your mason time and money on site.

The beauty of natural stone is found in the diverse textures, rich hues and the product integrity that nature provides. This process of perfection took millions of years to complete and resulted in our company being able to offer something unique from each of our eight quarry locations in Wisconsin. Every quarry produces its' own diverse spectrum of material, sometimes revealing changes from one layer to the next.

The veneers represented in this booklet are our traditional and pure blends. We can customize any product that you like by combining materials from different quarries, adjusting percentages and sizing, adding or removing specific colors, whatever you need to achieve the custom effect you desire. Your final product is only limited by your imagination.

We make every effort to capture the beauty and natural differences of our stones' color and texture in our photography.

As with all natural materials, variations do occur and we recommend viewing an actual sample of your selected product before you place your final order.

Why Thin Veneer?

All of our Eden and Valdars full veneer products are available as thin veneer. Thin veneer is approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ " to $1\frac{1}{4}$ " thick, compared to 4" nominal bed depth for full veneer thickness. This allows thin veneer to be applied directly to a wall without the need of a structural support system or brick ledge. You can apply natural stone just about anywhere, due to the light weight of thin veneer and the ability to apply it to most substrates. The difference in weight of thin products versus full veneer quadruples the square footage that can be shipped by the truckload. This saves on freight costs and energy consumption to deliver the product, helping to achieve eco-friendly project goals and/or Green building design considerations.

Stone Treatments

Tumbling adds an antiqued or aged appearance to your veneer by softening roughed edges. Most full and thin veneer products can be tumbled.

Rockfacing or Hand Dressing the stone adds a rough texture to the edge or face of your veneer. The edge of the veneer is hand chiseled to add depth and character. We recommend rockfacing to add dimension to any of our full or thin machine cut veneer products or blends.
